

ROAD TO PETROGRAD IS THREATENED

BUT 10 PERCENT EXEMPTION FOR FARMER CLAIMS

Number of Discharges Granted by District Board Running Lower Than Expected
ONLY BONAFIDE OWNER OR OPERATOR FAVORED
Majority of Those Let Off Have Had Dependents to Receive Consideration

Exemptions of the registrants who claim discharge from the draft as agricultural workers are running between eight and ten percent of the total number of applications in North Dakota. This percentage is far lower than had generally been anticipated. It will mean that a very small proportion of all the workers who have appealed to the district board for discharge can be accommodated. In a majority of instances where agricultural workers have been exempted by the district board, they not only were bonafide farmers—owners or renters of farms which they actively operated—but they also had dependents who entitled them to consideration.

Only two counties have been considered to date. The board only began yesterday wading into the mountain of claims which confronts it. Adams county had comparatively few claims for exemption on agricultural grounds and was quickly disposed of. The number of claims from McLean county, the second considered, was rather large, but the board had run through this list by noon today and took up a third county this afternoon.

In practically every instance where the board has considered a claim in the last two days its action will be final, so far as this board is concerned. The next source of appeal for the man who still feels he should not be called upon to fight is the president. It is not anticipated that any considerable number of appeals will be carried over the head of the North Dakota district board. It is a representative body which may be presumed to be fully conversant with conditions here at home, and if it does not exempt a man it will only be in the most exceptional cases that an appeal carried to the president can hope to receive favorable attention.

RAIL BOARD BUSY; HEARINGS WILL GO OVER FOR HARVEST

Chairman Aandahl Running Engine; Bleick in Fields; Johnson Making Hay

Because farmer members of the North Dakota railway commission are too busy getting in their 1916 crop or helping neighbors get in theirs to consider other matters just now, it is probable that unimportant railway and telephone hearings scheduled for the coming week will be postponed until the harvest rush is over.

Chairman S. J. Aandahl writes from Litchville that he is the engineer of a big threshing rig that is simply eating up the fields around there. Wheat, he advises, is running 10 and 12 bushels to the acre and is of splendid quality. He wants to be let off if it is possible, for there's no one else to run the engine.

Charles W. Bleick is busy with the harvest around Elgin, and M. P. Johnson of Tolley, state president of the Equity and the third member of the board, is down in Wisconsin and Minnesota looking up the prospects of getting hay and of getting it hauled to North Dakota to save the hundreds of herds which must be sacrificed if forage at a price the farmer can afford to pay cannot be provided.

There is, anyway, a hull in rail board affairs pending a decision of the price fixing committee as to the sum which the farmer is to get for his wheat. Until this is determined, no great amount of wheat will move, for the grain grower is averse to buying a pig in a poke if he doesn't have to.

OFFICER WITH PERSHING FORCE KILLED IN ACCIDENT

New York, Aug. 28.—Word of the first casualty to an officer in General Pershing's forces in France was received today by the marines corps in a cablegram announcing the death in a motorcycle accident of Frederick Walstrom, of the marine corps.

No details of the nature of the service Lieutenant Walstrom was engaged in when he met death were contained in the message.

U. S. Grant Won't Help History to Repeat If His Wife Can Help It

Ulysses S. Grant isn't going to assist history in repeating itself if his better half can help it—and judging from the tone of her letter to the district board she has some confidence in her ability.

Said U. S. Grant lives up state, is of military age, and was accepted by his local board. Apparently he didn't urge his claims for exemption very strongly, or the board did not consider them favorably, for Ulysses is up to the district board as a candidate for select service. And here Mrs. Grant steps in. She doesn't want Ulysses to go to war. She feels the family has done enough for its country, and that the proper place for Mr. U. S. Grant is beneath his own vine and fig tree. Therefore there's a chance that new lustre may not be shed on this glorious name. The district board still has something to say on the subject, however, and it hasn't come to Mrs. Grant's claim for exemption, filed on behalf of her Ulysses.

How He Trembles.

"The board he think my boy tremble because he afraid. That not so—he trembles all the while," writes a doting German mother whose boy was passed as physically perfect by a local exemption board in spite of the fact that he trembled. This fond mamma declares her boy the best all-around low and lofty trembler in the county. He trembles just as easily as other men breathe, and it isn't a lack of nerve at all but an overplus of nerves, she assures the board. She doesn't want her little trembler to go into the battle line where his trembling might be misinterpreted by some cousin or uncle or other relation on the German side of the trenches, and in very good Teutonic script she so advises the district board.

Pitiful Case.

A pitiful case which sheds new light on the great American home comes from another claimant, who declares himself the sole support of one father and one mother. Other members of the family, he naively advises, are his little brothers, three of them, aged 20, 19 and 17. Maybe he'll get his, and maybe not.

He's a Farmer.

Then there's a proud mamma who declares her boy's a real, for-sure-enough farmer. He worked two months on a farm last year and he expected to work two months this year, but he didn't like the 1917

TALCOTT FEELS CONFIDENT OF SQUARE DEAL

Wires Governor Fae's That Committee Is Taking Facts Into Consideration
DECLARES RUMORS OF LOW PRICE UNFOUNDED

Confident that the price fixing committee at Washington will give the North Dakota farmer a square deal on his wheat crop is expressed in a wire received by Governor Fae from this morning from Warden F. S. Talcott of the state penitentiary, who represents the Flockertall chief executive at the national capital. Warden Talcott wires:

The committee is still deliberating. Northwest wheat growers' interests are being urgently and earnestly presented before the conference. Public rumors of price to be fixed below $1 are wholly without foundation. Representatives of the states of North and South Dakota and Minnesota, after consulting members of congress and United States Treasurer Burke, have had an opportunity to interview Chairman Garfield and members of the committee and find that detailed facts of the cost of production, the importance of making good the government's promise of liberal prices, etc., all clearly presented before them, but the committee is trying to find a middle course between the interests of the producer and the consumer. Dr. Ladd is working tirelessly and effectively for fair consideration of the farmer's interests and especially is looking after the spread of price between grades and the price of durum wheat.

"A strong point to urge is that the price must be high enough to bring this year's crop to market and to encourage large acreages sown to wheat next year. Have arranged for another interview tomorrow morning. Decision possibly will be reached late tomorrow."

"F. S. TALCOTT"

ALLIES WILL DETAIL MEN TO HELP MILITIA

Washington, Aug. 28.—A group of French army officers, specialists in trench warfare, will be attached to national guard and national army camps under plans worked out by the war department. British and French governments have been asked to detail officers, and probably eight or 10 will be assigned to each of the 32 camps. The foreign officers will not come in direct touch with the American troops. The training will be done entirely by the American officers of the companies, regiments or brigades, but the American officers will have the opportunity to consult their foreign associates who have had actual training at the front.

HOMESTEADERS UNLUCKY

Lose All Their Property and Clothing When Shack Burns

New England, N. D., Aug. 28.—Mr. and Mrs. Nick Elmer, who recently came from Chicago to homestead, lost all of their money and everything in the way of clothing, except what they had on their backs, when their shack was destroyed by an explosion of gasoline. Mrs. Elmer was badly burned in an effort to save something from the wreck.

CANADA NEEDS 16,000 MEN FOR HARVEST

Unless United States Assists Bulk of Wheat Will Be Imperiled
DOMINION OFFICIALS URGE ACTION NOW

Winnipeg, Can., Aug. 28.—If Minnesota, the Dakotas and Iowa cannot supply western Canada's needs of 16,000 more farm hands than the bulk of the 300,000,000 bushels of wheat in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta will be seriously imperiled.

This was the statement recently of railway and immigration officials in close touch with harvest conditions in western Canada. More than 100,000 hands are needed for harvesting in Saskatchewan and about 6,000 are wanted for work in Manitoba fields. The immigration officials are depending upon the harvest season in the four states to release for the western Canadian farmers a large number of farm hands for this purpose.

SCHOOL BOOK SUPPLY LOW IN GERMANY

Amsterdam, Aug. 28.—The supply of school books in Germany will soon be exhausted, according to the Vossische Zeitung. Publishers of school books have been notified that they may use what stocks of paper they now have on hand, but they will not be allowed any more paper for books.

TO DISCUSS POPE'S PEACE PROPOSALS

Copenhagen, Aug. 28.—Pope Benedict's peace note will be the principal subject of discussion at a meeting in Berlin this evening in which Chancellor Michaelis, members of the German parliament and members from Prussia, Bavaria, Saxony and Wurttemberg will participate. Reports from the German capital add that Dr. Michaelis will leave for Belgium immediately after the meeting, where he will confer with the governor general, Baron von Falkenhause.

TWENTY-ONE BILLION NEEDED FOR WAR

Washington, Aug. 28.—Secretary McAdoo appeared before the house ways and means committee today to discuss the forthcoming administration bill and to explain the expected request of the treasury for an additional two billion dollar bond issue to be made by congress.

Democratic Leader Kitchin declared that the new treasury estimate probably will make necessary to increase to $21,000,000,000 the amount available for the government for the present fiscal year.

GUARDSMAN KILLED BY NEGRO RIOTERS

Captain Mattes of Battery A, Second Illinois Field Artillery, was killed by rioting negro soldiers at Camp Logan, Houston, Texas, when he tried to persuade them to return to camp and cease their attacks on policemen and white residents.

Today over a flag-draped grave, in a cemetery here, taps were sounded and a picked squad of men from the Second Illinois Infantry fired a military salute, the last rites over the body of Captain Joseph W. Mattes, who was killed while attempting to quiet negro soldiers participating in a race riot at Houston, Texas, last week. The body was escorted from the church to the cemetery by a picked battery of artillery, 1,200 civilian members of a society that Captain Mattes belonged to, and a deputation of Spanish war veterans.

52 MORE MEN CERTIFIED BY COUNTY BOARD

Burling's Nit Quota Now Exceeded by More Than Necessary Ten Per Cent

CALL WILL COME SOON FOR FIRST CAMP GROUP

Burling county, with 52 men certified to the district board yesterday, has well over its quota of 53. Plans were set to allow for rejections and discharges by the district board. Of the 53 eligibles selected by the local exemption board from the second class of 200 registrants, a large number are expected to file claims for exemptions on agricultural grounds with the district board, but no application for discharge has been made by any of these men to the local boards.

The call for Burling's first thirty percent to mobilize here preparatory to entering for camp Dodge at Des Moines, Ia., is expected within a few days. It is expected that the first contingent will leave for Des Moines on September 5.

The district board has thousands of claims for agricultural exemptions to consider. Six hundred claims came in yesterday alone, and it would appear that a very large percentage of the able-bodied, unmarried young men of North Dakota are actively engaged in farming. The district board expects to begin the consideration of these claims this week.

Burling's second list of select service men, which went to the district board yesterday, follows:

David W. Smith 401 Front street, Bismarck, N. D. 204.
Paul Stark Wing, N. D. 207.
Frank Van Vleet, Bismarck, N. D. 219.

Crucial Hour Striking for Kerensky; Victorious Italians Press Forward

AUSTRIA MAY DECLARE WAR ON AMERICA

Financial Aid Given to Italy Expected to Bring Formal Break
ITALIANS ARE MAKING DOWN RESISTANCE
On French Front the German Counter Attacks Fail to Regain Ground

Washington, Aug. 28.—The possibility that Austria and other allies of Germany may soon declare war against the United States, because of the financial aid given to Italy is recognized by administration officials. It was explained today that there is nothing in the existing situation that would cause the United States to take the initiative, but that an anomalous state of affairs may exist in broadening the war does result was not denied. Relations of the United States with Germany's allies are defined as still in a state of broken diplomatic relations.

(By Associated Press.)

Somewhat slowly, but nevertheless surely, the Italians are breaking down the resistance of the Austrians in the region around Monte Santo, north of Gorizia, and making their way eastward toward the border of Upper Carniola.

In their endeavor to hold back the Italians, the Austrians have brought to this sector large numbers of fresh men, and at last reports the fighting was most intense, but with the Italians having overcome the resistance of the Austrians at various points.

Virtually nothing is being vouchsafed in the Italian official communications which even approximately records the advances General Cadorna's men have made since they began their offensive from the region of Tolmino to the sea, the Italian war office probably desiring to conceal from the enemy the exact objectives it has in view.

Counter Attacks Thrown Back.

On the front in France, the Germans have been throwing counterattacks against the French line in the region of Verdun, but not only have the forces of General Petain maintained their gains in their entirety, but have taken more than 1,000 additional prisoners.

Likewise, on the Alsace front, the German crown prince is keeping up his offensive against the French, but here also the attempts meet with complete failure.

Along the front held by the British the operations have scarcely risen above the character of trench raids, although on various sectors vigorous artillery duels are in progress.

The Berlin war office reports the capture of Russian positions near Jacobstadt, between Riga and Dyvinsk on the northern Russian front, but makes no mention of a resumption of the operations begun last week east of Riga. In Rumania the Russo-Rumanian forces are still holding their own against the invaders, having retaken eight positions northwest of Sovaia, which the Germans captured last week. On the Fokshani sector, Field Marshal von Mackensen's forces seemingly have been unable to make

TEN OLD CUSTER SCOUTS SURVIVE ON RESERVATION

Holy Cross Makes List of Scouts Who Served Victims of Little Big Horn

Fort Yates, N. D., Aug. 28.—F. B. Zahn, (Holy Cross) clerk at the agency and who is compiling a census of the Indians on Standing Rock, finds that there are living on the reservation the following Indians who served as scouts for Gen. G. A. Custer at Fort Abraham Lincoln up to the time of his last campaign in July, 1876: Blue Thunder, Good Wolf, One Dog, Iron Road, Fool Bear, all of Cannonball, and Keep Eagle, Shooter, No Eye Throws and Paints Prown of Fort Yates. Paints Brown, after serving one year as scout, was discharged, and later he went over to the hostiles, with whom he participated in the Custer massacre.

Dependent Over Poor Crop, Edgar F. Booth Takes His Own Life at Glendive

Glendive, Mont., Aug. 28.—Edgar F. Booth, for a number of years traveling salesman for the Bismarck Grocery Co., with headquarters at Glendive, and more recently engaged in ranching north of Savage, was found lying on his bed with a bullet hole in his head when Mrs. Booth entered their room shortly after the family had finished breakfast. Booth had apparently been in normal health and spirits, but it is believed that brooding over poor crops induced his rash act. He was 35 years old and had been married but 13 months. He was a member of the Glendive lodge of Elks.

PRESIDENT TIGHTENS UP FOOD EMBARGO

Washington, D. C., Aug. 28.—Use of exports control as a war weapon to hasten the submission of Germany is seen here in President Wilson's proclamation placing further restrictions on overseas shipments. The proclamation directs that goods may not be sent to European neutrals, except under license, and extends the list of commodities for which license is required for shipment to the allies and European countries.

The president, in a statement accompanying the proclamation, declares it is the main purpose of the government to see that no American-made products are made the occasion of benefit to the enemy, either directly or indirectly.

LEADERS OF NEW REGIME INSIST UPON OBEDIENCE

General Korniloff Tells Conference Struggle Against Russian Anarchy
ASKS RESTORATION OF DEATH PENALTY
Unless Slav Army's Morale Is Regained Loss of Capital Possible

LEAVE TRENCHES.
Petrograd, Aug. 28.—Russian infantry left their trenches before an enemy attack in the Boyany region and is retreating eastward, the war office announces.

Moscow, Aug. 28.—The second general sitting of the national conference was held here this afternoon. General Korniloff, the commander in chief, entered the hall in company with Premier Kerensky. His appearance was the signal for a prolonged ovation.

Vladimir Naboukoff, a prominent socialist democrat, speaking in the name of the first duma declared the country aimed at the establishment of a strong and independent power, uninfluenced by political parties, a power based on democratic principles, which would establish obedience to the law and personal liberty and security. The speaker emphasized the necessity of the independence of the high command of the army from every private interference.

Naboukoff said the members of the first duma repudiated with indignation all thought of a separate peace and that if they were to have peace, they did not desire it to be the result of German victory at the expense of Russia and her allies.

M. Alexinski made a similar declaration on behalf of the second duma.

Army Demoralized.

Premier Kerensky introduced General Korniloff, saying the government had thought it necessary to invite the commander in chief to lay before the conference the situation at the front and in the army.

General Korniloff said the death penalty, restoration of which he asked, together with other measures, constitutes only a small part of what was necessary in an army stricken with the terrible evils of disorganization and insubordination.

Kill Commanders.

In the present month General Korniloff said, the soldiers had killed four regimental commanders, and other officers had caused the deaths of only when threatened with being shot. Recently one of the regiments of Siberian rifles, which had fought so splendidly at the beginning of the revolution, abandoned their position on the Riga front. Nothing except an order to exterminate the entire regiment available to cause it to return to its position.

Fighting Anarchy.

"Thus we are implacably fighting anarchy in the army," the commander continued. "Undoubtedly it will be finally repressed, but the danger of fresh debacles is weighing constantly on the country."

"The situation on the front is bad. We have lost the whole of Galicia, the whole of Bukovina and all the fruits of our recent victory. At several points the enemy has crossed our frontier, and are threatening our fertile southern provinces. He is endeavoring to destroy the Rumanian army, and is knocking at the gates of Riga. If our army does not hold the shore of the Gulf of Riga the road to Petrograd will be opened wide."

Sense of Duty Lost.

"The old regime bequeathed to Russia an army which, despite all the defects in its organization, was animated by fighting spirit, and ready for sacrifice. The whole series of measures taken by those who are completely foreign to the spirit and needs of the army has transformed it into a collection of individual groups which have lost all sense of duty and only tremble for their own personal safety."

Must Be Regenerated.

"If Russia wishes to be saved the army must be regenerated at any cost. We must immediately take measures such as I have referred to, which have been approved in their entirety by the action of the minister of war."

General Korniloff then outlined the most important of the measures, in addition to the restoration of the death penalty, which are:

First. Restoration of discipline in the army by strengthening the authority of officers and non-commissioned officers.

Second. Improvement of the financial position of officers who have been in a very difficult position in the recent military operations.

Third. Restriction of the functions of regimental committees, which, although managing economic affairs of the regiment, must not be permitted to have any part in the decision re-

IMPOSSIBLE TO EVEN ESTIMATE
NUMBER CLAIMS

District Exemption Board Meets
With Big Stack of Work

Out-Out for It

It would be impossible now to even estimate the number of claims for agricultural exemptions on which we have to pass," announced Chairman E. B. Birdsell this morning when the district exemption board convened at the capitol for the really serious part of the work which has been assigned to it.

There are stacks and stacks of claimant claims upon every conceivable grounds which could have any possible connection with agriculture, or other occupations especially favored by the government in consideration of exemptions. And in addition there are stacks of appeals from local boards, appeals made by the registrant, by his father, mother, brother, sister, sweetheart or employer, and claims automatically made by the government in cases where the local board has granted exemptions.

Every county but one now has reported to the district board. The board has a lien on this delinquent county, which apparently is doing its best to come to the scratch. More names of accepted registrants are being certified by the adjutant general and county boards today. There is no longer any question as to North Dakota's ability to supply a full quota of 100,000 men by September 5. While some counties may be short, the board has authority to summon sufficient additional men from counties which have an abundance to make up the quota for the laggards.

WILSON'S PLEA REVIVES HOPES OF EXEMPTION

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 28.—President Wilson's reiterated recommendation that so far as consistent married men be exempted from service in the draft army served today as a short-lived revival of the withered hope for exemption upon the part of hundreds of registrants whose claims had been denied.

The announcement caused a rush on local exemption boards, but the applicants were advised that the claims urged by President Wilson had been taken into consideration in passing upon their original applications for exemption, and that no changes in the policy of the boards were to be expected.

Governor Frazier And Mayor Lucas to Lead Grand March

Governor Frazier and Mayor A. W. Lucas, and the first ladies of the state and the capital city, Me-dames Frazier and Lucas, will lead the grand march which at 9 o'clock tomorrow evening will usher in Co. I's dancing party on the pavement in Broadway, between Second and Third streets.

The grand march will be preceded by a band concert from the Second regiment band of Harvey, which also will furnish music for the dancing. The band will occupy a raised platform in the middle of the street, and there will be dancing all around. Special decorations and lighting effects will be provided, and the second carnival dance of the season promises to be a greater success, if possible, than the first.

GATES FOR BAD CROSSING ASKED BY COMMISSION

Ordinance Presented for First Reading Would Prevent Re-petition of Tragedy

FIRE TRAPS CAN'T BE REBUILT OR REPAIRED

Gates which will render impossible a repetition of the tragedy which cost the life of Robert A. Johnson on the Third street crossing of the Northern Pacific are ordered in by an ordinance introduced for its first reading at the city commission meeting last evening by Finance Commissioner Lattey. The ordinance gives the city power to order gates installed on ten days' notice at any crossing which it may consider dangerous.

W. A. McDonald, agent for the Northern Pacific, attended last evening's session, but had no comment to make on the ordinance.

Can't Rebuild.

The commission last night went flatly on record against the rebuilding or repairing of firetraps within the fire limits. Attorney Theodore A. Koffel, representing John A. Hoagland, presented a number of reasons why the commission should grant Hoagland's application for permission to rebuild the frame structure adjoining the Bismarck business college, which was badly damaged in the Dakota Motor Co. fire. Work had been started on the repairs at one time, but they were stopped by a committee including the fire commissioner, and last evening Mr. Hoagland presented a formal application for permission to continue.

The commission was agreed that the rebuilding or repair of frame structures of any kind should not be countenanced within the fire limits. Attorney Koffel argued that the commission by the city ordinances is bound not to confiscate such property unless the extent of damage is more than 25 percent. He declared the Hoagland structure was damaged not more than 50 or 60 percent, while he argued that it would cost $4,000 to $5,000 to replace the building.

The commission had just voted not to grant Mr. Hoagland's request when the fire alarm sounded, and the glare of the Fifth street fire illuminated the council chamber, whereupon adjournment was taken.

Reports.

The usual monthly reports were received and filed. The city weigher having weighed 747 loads and the collection of $74.70 for July; the chief of police reported 52 calls and 60 arrests; the police magistrate reported that he collected $95.63 in fines during the month of July and that his expenses were only $60, netting the city a profit of $35.63, and the city assessor reported that he is earning his salary by reporting collections of $277 during July from circus, merry-go-rounds, dog licenses, tax-licenses, drivers' licenses, bill boards and other special source.

The treasurer reported a balance of $31,667 on hand July 1. The opening of 17th street was discussed, the Soo line have expressed its willingness but the Northern Pacific questioning the necessity. That the purpose in opening the street is to have an unpaved thoroughfare for the use of traction engines was explained to Agent McDonald, who will report to his company.

GLEANERS WANT IN

Well Known Rural Insurance Company Asks Admission

The state insurance department now is considering an application from Rose L. Holloway, secretary of the National Order of Gleaners of Detroit, Mich., for admission to North Dakota to write whole life policies. The Gleaners, strong in agricultural states further east, never before have sought to invade North Dakota.

RAPS COMPULSORY INSURANCE.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 28.—J. S. Phillips of New York, president of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners, opened the annual convention of the organization here in an address in which he stated his belief in the compulsory insurance without regard to the incomes of the insured is "un-American and dangerous to civil liberty."

The delegates were welcomed by Governor Barnquist at the opening meeting.

It is learned authoritatively, however, that the cargoes of all the ships in question amount to some 19,000 tons.

Pioneer Woman Passes Away at the Age of 79

Mrs. Barbara Gabel, aged 79, a pioneer resident of Bismarck, passed away this morning at 3:15 in the St. Alexis hospital where she had been only a short time undergoing treatment. She had been in failing health for several weeks and Monday was taken quite ill. She was the widow of the late Valentine Gabel, and was a member of the St. Mary's pro-cathedral.

She is survived by seven children, John, George, Joseph, Frank and William Gabel, farmers living near the city. Mrs. Henry Steinmetz of this place and Mrs. W. H. Graves of Janesville, Wis. No arrangements have been made for the funeral.

Mother of Raleigh Passes Away; Whole Town Mourns Loss

Raleigh, N. D., Aug. 28.—The "Mother of Raleigh" is dead. Mrs. Charlotte Welch, mother of Omar Welch of Raleigh and owner of the townsite upon which Raleigh is built, passed away at the age of 72. She had lived here ever since the first spadeful of earth was turned on the townsite, and everyone knew her and lovingly referred to her as mother, when a younger generation was springing up to whom she was "Grand-ma." Everyone in Raleigh attended the funeral.

TOO MUCH FOR BLOODHOUND

Pepper and Liniment on Clothes Enabled Missouri Convict to Escape.

Jefferson City, Mo.—A liberal treatment of his cast-off prison clothing with red pepper and horse liniment enabled Frank Johnson, a convict, to baffle penitentiary bloodhounds after he escaped. When the hounds were taken to the scene where Johnson left his clothes, they sniffed at the garments, then sneezed violently, but would not take the trail.

GERMANS SNEER AT U. S. SOLDIERS

But Sneer Is Sneer of Unreason and the German Officers Know It.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—The press in Germany is printing its daily sneer at the American army. The sneer perhaps covers fear. The Germans know more about our soldiers, our regular soldiers at any rate, than they care to put into print.

The other day there came to Washington to join the Aviation corps of his country, a boy whose name is Powhatan H. Clarke. The elders among the army officers who met him saw in him a virtual reproduction of his father, also Powhatan H. Clarke, who graduated from the United States military academy in 1884. It was the senior Powhatan H. Clarke, who died some years ago in the line of duty, who taught the German emperor, his staff and the German people to have respect for the regular officers of the United States army.

Within a year of the time that he had graduated from the military academy Lieut. Powhatan H. Clarke of the cavalry was given a medal of honor by congress for conspicuous personal gallantry. He had carried a wounded sergeant of his troop from the field under a rain of Apache bullets fired at point blank range. Today hanging in the Army and Navy club in New York city is a painting by Frederick Remington, showing Lieutenant Clarke carrying the negro trooper on his shoulder along the pathway of fire.

When Clarke graduated at the age of twenty-one he looked no older than a boy of seventeen so far as his face went. However, he was big and athletic and was a pattern of the American soldier. His heroism on the Arizona battlefield had won him recognition and soon he was sent to Berlin as American military attaché.

SAYS NORWAY NEEDS FOOD

Specially posed photograph of Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, the famous Norwegian explorer, who recently arrived in the United States, as head of the Norwegian commission here to plead with the United States to relax her new export regulations so that supplies urgently needed in Norway can be shipped.

With one-third of its shipping tonnage sunk by U-boats, Norway will starve and cease to exist as a nation unless American permits foodstuffs and iron to be sent to Norway, says Doctor Nansen.

"Norway is in desperate straits for foodstuffs and iron," said Dr. Nansen. "We must have food from the United States or we shall starve. We must have iron or we will have to abandon shipbuilding. Our trade is almost exclusively with the United States. The only food we are sending to Germany is fish, and we do that with the consent of the British government. We are getting no iron from Germany or England. These countries were our principal source of supply before the war."

The Suez Canal.

The plan of water connection between the Mediterranean and the Red sea goes back to early Egyptian history. Such a canal seems to have been constructed in the reigns of Seti I and Rameses II, about 1800 B. C., extending from the Nile to Lake Timsah and thence to the Red sea.

Tantalum Pens.

Tantalum, owing to its hardness, makes good material for writing pens, which are less expensive than iridium-tipped gold nibs. It is claimed that pens from this metal treated with a special hardening process, proves superior to all others and are uncorroded by any inks.

GERMANS SNEER AT U. S. SOLDIERS

But Sneer Is Sneer of Unreason and the German Officers Know It.

CLARKE WIPES OUT GRIN

Lieutenant, by Remarkable Feat of Horsemanship, Teaches Kaiser and His Officers to Respect U. S. Regulars.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—The press in Germany is printing its daily sneer at the American army. The sneer perhaps covers fear. The Germans know more about our soldiers, our regular soldiers at any rate, than they care to put into print.

The other day there came to Washington to join the Aviation corps of his country, a boy whose name is Powhatan H. Clarke. The elders among the army officers who met him saw in him a virtual reproduction of his father, also Powhatan H. Clarke, who graduated from the United States military academy in 1884. It was the senior Powhatan H. Clarke, who died some years ago in the line of duty, who taught the German emperor, his staff and the German people to have respect for the regular officers of the United States army.

Within a year of the time that he had graduated from the military academy Lieut. Powhatan H. Clarke of the cavalry was given a medal of honor by congress for conspicuous personal gallantry. He had carried a wounded sergeant of his troop from the field under a rain of Apache bullets fired at point blank range. Today hanging in the Army and Navy club in New York city is a painting by Frederick Remington, showing Lieutenant Clarke carrying the negro trooper on his shoulder along the pathway of fire.

When Clarke graduated at the age of twenty-one he looked no older than a boy of seventeen so far as his face went. However, he was big and athletic and was a pattern of the American soldier. His heroism on the Arizona battlefield had won him recognition and soon he was sent to Berlin as American military attaché.

Why They Sneered.

Lieutenant Clarke sneered the German capital and was introduced to the officers attached to military headquarters and to the person of Emperor William. He found out instantly that there was some joke on the American army which was dwelling in the memories and showing itself in the laughing faces and on the sneering lips of the Kaiser's officers.

It did not take the American long to discover where the trouble lay. A former military attaché accredited from the American army had been thrown from his horse in the presence of Emperor William and his staff. It may have been that any rider, no matter how expert, might have been thrown in like circumstances, but the Germans held that the American cavalry was composed of men likely to be ditched at the first jump.

The German maneuvers came on. The emperor's army was assembled and the American lieutenant was with the personal staff of William. When the Germans saw the Yankee cavalryman on his horse they were compelled to admiration at his appearance, but appearances did not necessarily imply horsemanship.

In the field of the maneuvers there was a huge ditch, partly nature's work and partly man's. It was considered to be impossible of crossing by cavalrymen. It was fully half a mile in length, and no German horse had ever been put to the test of covering its breadth, for a fall into it doubtless meant death, for, at any rate, the severest injury.

The emperor and his officers were about half a mile from the ditch and opposite a point between its two extremities. A general of the forces had his headquarters about two miles from the position of the emperor and on the other side of the obstruction.

William called one of his aides, a man who had the reputation of being one of the finest horsemen in the German army. The emperor handed him an order to be delivered to the subordinate commander two miles away over the field. The German aide took the order, rode, put, and started in the direction of the flank of the ditch. The American cavalryman rode to the emperor's aide, saluted and asked permission to carry a duplicate of the order. The emperor smiled a little and acquiesced, handing a bit of paper to Clarke.

Opens Kaiser's Eyes.

The American touched his horse and made straight for the ditch which cut the field transversely. His intention became known in an instant, and the eyes of every officer in the field were turned on the young fellow riding away clad in the uniform of the United States. There was something of concern perhaps in the hearts of these German officers, when it became known that the boy lieutenant was going to jump the ditch or die.

In the meantime the German aide, carrying the first message, was striking for the far west. There was to be no duck jumping for him, but the firm unbroken ground of the plain was to be his chosen pathway.

Clarke set his horse straight for the gully with its treacherous banks and its yawning depths. He had put his horse over arroyos in the far West that were as forbidding as was this trench on the maneuvering fields of Germany. Clarke had his own horse, an animal which he had brought with him from America. He knew the horse and the horse knew him. The Tankee pressed forward, and in a moment more, with the eyes of the German army upon them, horse and rider, in one magnificent leap, had cleared the gulf, and were scurrying away to the headquarters of the German general.

The Yankee officer beat the German aide by half a mile of distance, and he was on his way back with the emperor's answer before the first messenger dispatched had delivered his imperial majesty's order. Clarke took the ditch on his return as he had taken it at the first, but the German returned by the way he had come.

Until August, 1914, and perhaps until April 1917, the story of Clarke's jump frequently was told in the German service. The sneer for American soldiery officers here say is the sneer of unreason and that the German army knows it.

102 YEARS OLD; FEELS FINE

Oregon Centenarian Attributes His Good Condition to Right Living in His Youth.

Astoria, Ore.—"I sleep well, eat heartily, enjoy every minute of the day and am feeling fine," said Henry Hill Watson of Oswego, N. Y., who is here spending a vacation in his one hundred and second year. That was his answer to a question concerning how he felt after his trip across the continent.

Watson attributes his age and activity to right living in his youth. When ninety-nine years old he traveled from Oswego to Colorado Springs to visit his daughter and afterward returned home.

Scientific and religious books are his hobby.

FAMILY IN SCHOOLHOUSE

Could Not Rent Any Other Place in Kansas Town and So Moved In.

Smith Center, Kan.—In nearly every town in northwest Kansas an overcrowded condition prevails, and many families are unable to find homes to rent.

So acute became the lack of houses to rent in this city that a newly arrived family, after importuning the school board, was allowed to begin housekeeping in one of the six rooms of the schoolhouse. Now other families seek the same privilege and the school board may have to yield.

Stutsman County
Conducting Red
Cross Campaign

The board of directors for the Stutsman county Red Cross society is conducting a membership campaign this week in every section of that county. The board aims to form 21 branch organizations of the Jamestown chapter, and to enroll every man, woman and child as members.

A monster mass meeting has been announced for Monday evening, Sept. 3, for the purpose of stimulating interest in the work. A speaker of national reputation will deliver an address.

Women's Championship Golf
Tournament Opens Sept. 1

The annual match play for the women's championship cup presented by Jim Jam Jema to the Bismarck Country club will begin September 1. The cup was won last year by Mrs. E. H. Vesperman. It is expected that number of the Bismarck players will enter the contest.

In order that drawings be made for the match play it is necessary that each person desiring to enter the tournament turn in two cards, properly signed by her opponent prior to September 1. It is also very desirable that matches be played promptly in order to avoid dragging the matches along into November as was the case last year when the players were hampered by unseasonable weather and lack of caddies.

Full details concerning the championship, handicap and larger tournaments may be obtained from bulletins posted in the club house. The ringer tournament has been open for some time. Bulletin cards for all the women's events are being posted.

To Visit Sister.

Attorney Alfred Zuger and nephew, Henry Jones of Thayer street, left Sunday for Duluth, where they will visit the former's sister, Mrs. J. D. Hanson. Later they will go to the twin cities for a visit before returning home.

Ministry Meeting.

The Woman's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. J. P. French in Rosser street. This is the first meeting of the society since June and a large attendance is expected. The meeting will be held on the court house lawn.

To Live Here.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Pollard of Marshall, Wis., have arrived in the city to make their home and will reside in the LaRue duplex in Avenue A. Mr. Pollard is a representative of the Thompson Lumber company. They are friends of Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Postlethwaite of the Presbyterian manse.

Soldier Boys Feted.

In honor of soldier boys of La Moure members of Companies H and F, Miss Lella Diesem of this place but formerly of LaMoure, entertained at dinner during the week end at the Grand Pacific. Asters centered the table and flags were used for the place cards. The guests included Corporal Vernon Muir, Corporal George Cunningham, privates William Kloube, Joseph Schneider, Alvie Cullen of LaMoure, Dean Lewis of Company A, and Supt. and Mrs. W. L. Parsons. A photograph was taken of the party and will be preserved as souvenirs. Following the dinner the guests attended the carnival dance given by the Second regiment band.

Miss Anna Htger of Minneapolis, who had been in Mandan the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Rosen for several days, left Saturday afternoon for Beulah where she is visiting with her mother and family this week.

Miss Dorothy Rosen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Rosen is also visiting at the Htger home in Beulah this week.

Arthur Hebling who had been in Mandan for a number of days attending to business matters and visiting with relatives, returned to Golden Valley Saturday afternoon. Mr. Hebling is manager of the Mandan Mercantile company yards at Golden Valley.

The Austrians moved up their infantry and occupied the positions when the Russians gave way.

BUSINESS SUSPENDED
IN HONOR OF MEMORY
OF PIONEER CITIZEN

Business was practically suspended in Bismarck this afternoon during the hours of the funeral of Oscar H. Will, which was held at the residence on Fourth street at 2:30. Banks, stores and offices, including those of the county and city, closed in respect to the memory of a pioneer citizen and business man. Rev. Bruce E. Jackson, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiated, and interment was made in Fairview cemetery. As requested by the deceased, the rites were private and were attended only by members of the family and very close friends.

The pallbearers were O. R. Barnes, E. J. Taylor, G. A. Welch, P. E. Byrne, F. L. Conklin and Dr. N. O. Ramstad, all old friends and neighbors of the deceased. A great quantity of beautiful floral tokens evidenced the esteem in which the deceased was held by fellow citizens of Bismarck.

AUSTRIA MAY DECLARE
WAR ON AMERICA

Further advances owing to the stiffening of the line of defenders.

In the Plandris, the British affected considerable local improvement in their position yesterday in their attack on Lombardville. They advanced their lines on a front more than 2,000 yards, establishing themselves further in the third defense system of the Germans on both sides of Julien-Poelcapelle road.

Berlin concedes the British "insignificant gains" in this sector. The French on the Verdun front have reached a pause in their forward movement.

In the Alsne region, General Petain's guns stopped two attacks by the crown prince in the Calvarie plateau and Chevreux region.

Further news from General Cadorna's operations against the Austrians along the Isonzo and Carso fronts is being awaited with eagerness.

Today's official report from Petrograd announced the voluntary retreat of forces which were being subjected to artillery fire east of Czeronowitz, near the Bessarabian border.

MARGUERITE CLARK

Because she was reputed never to have told a lie in all her life, Bernice Somers was presented with a truth medal. As a matter of fact, she was one of the wisest flatters that ever joined the Annex club.

The funny part of it was that she had such a pious and innocent expression on her pretty face that she completely fooled everybody, except her immediate friends, who ironically called her "Miss George Washington"—because she was so different Dainty Little Marguerite Clark is "Miss George Washington" in the photoplay of that name which is the Famous Players Paramount attraction at the Bismarck and Grand theaters tonight. It is the first production under the new contract which Miss Clark made with the famous Players, and was directed by J. Searle Dawley, who staged the little scar's most recent successes, such as "Little Lady Elfen", "Molly Make Believe" and "Silks and Satins".

Western Meteor Burns Up Courts in National Patriotic Tennis Circles

JOHN R. STRACHAN

John R. Strachan, who is burning a meteor-like career across the eastern courts may bring back to California the tennis honors taken from the westerners by R. Norris Williams, national champion of 1916, eliminated from the 1917 championship by N. W. Niles of Boston.

Strachan possesses the bullet speed of Maurice McLoughlin, although he is not so rugged as the great Californian.

The coast star was practically unknown in the east until his invasion this year in which he has been particularly successful.

White Sox Have the Nerve, Greatest Fault Is Carelessness; They Should Win Pennant

BY PAUL PURMAN

The White Sox should win the American league pennant.

Predictions at this time are confronted by pitfalls and snarls for the unwary and the Red Sox are not out of the race by a whole lot.

But right now the White Sox look like the winning club, the club which will be able to keep out in the lead unless the breaks are too tough to overcome.

I have watched both clubs during the last invasion of the eastern teams and the White Sox have consistently refuted the most serious charge made against them—that they haven't the nerve in the pinch.

I have heard this charge made by ballplayers on other clubs and then seen the Sox go out and win games against these same players when the odds seemed hopelessly against them.

The most serious charge that can be made against the White Sox is that they are inclined to be careless.

If they lose to Boston it will be on account of this fault.

Twice this season the Sox have been forced out of first place.

Once this occurred when the club was playing away from home and at Boston at that.

If the White Sox had not been a nervy club it would never have pulled out of that hole.

Again they fell behind at home, with the Red Sox looming up as their next adversaries. They won the games they needed and climbed back into the lead.

The White Sox have the nerve.

They have played the best ball of the season with Buck Weaver, one of the best, if not the best, third baseman in the business absent from the lineup.

If the Sox did not have nerve the teamwork would have suffered when Weaver broke his finger.

The White Sox have fewer games to play than Boston, otherwise the schedule of one is about as difficult as that of the other.

These two teams must clash once again, the next time at Boston.

It may be that the pennant race will be decided then, but it is more likely that the White Sox will go into that series with a big enough lead that that series will not be considered "crucial."

The Red Sox have been known as an aggregation which would win when it had to win.

While this has been true this year to a certain extent, the White Sox have also been able to win when they had to and have prevented the Red Sox from winning when the games meant the White Sox would skid into second place.

There is no yellow streak in the White Sox; they should win.

SPORT GOSSIP

St. Louis, Mo., August 28.—Announcement is made by Phil Ball, president of the St. Louis American league club, that despite severe criticism, Fielder Jones will be retained as manager for the 1918 season. Ball also said that Jones could trade the entire team, if necessary, to acquire men suited to his style of play.

"The poor showing of the team this year is not Jones' fault," he said.

Accidents and sickness among the players handicapped the club from the first. The slump has subjected Jones to severe criticism.

"The owners of the club think highly of Jones' ability and will give him all the support necessary to bring out a winning club next year," Jones will stick. "We want him on the job."

"The team never has been in fact. First Davenport was shot and then Shotton became ill. Next Weidman went under the surgeon's knife. Then Pratt broke a wrist. Lavan also has been out of the game off and on. Sider hobbled around four weeks on a bad foot. Austin broke a finger and finally Plank retired from baseball. It's absurd to blame Jones for all this misfortune. He is entitled to another trial and he will get it."

When informed of Ball's statement, Jones said:

"I will rebuild my team around Sider, Pratt and Austin. I am not going to tear this club apart just to experiment. I know it is a good ball club as it stands and it isn't going to take much additional strength to whip it into a winner."

Minneapolis, August 29.—Virtually an entire new team will have to be drilled by Dr. H. L. Williams, coach of the University of Minnesota football eleven, to represent the Maroon and Gold this fall. Of nineteen members of last year's strong squad who would be eligible this year, only five return to school. Twelve are in federal service, one is married, and out of school and another has left the state.

Captain George Hauser, who has been studying forestry in the northern woods, is certain to return back to "Con" Ecklund, who has been a life-guard at a local bathing beach. Coach Williams is expected to build the Minnesota line around these two men.

"Buck" Flynn and "Kewpie" Schroeder have an edge on the outpost positions at present.

Flynn, as a running mate to Captain Boston, showed flashes of brilliancy in the Chicago and Wisconsin games last fall. Schroeder is one of the most promising men from the freshmen team.

Both Norman Kingsley and "Will" Van Nest, who acted as understudies to "Pudge" Wymann and "Shorty" Long, respectively, will be back. Kingsley is a good forward passer and Van Nest played quarterback in several of last year's preliminary games.

Probably the most difficult task facing Coach Williams is the development of a set of half backs. In former years material for this part of the offensive has always been plentiful, but this season the coach will have to depend largely upon the eligible second year men. Many of the latter also are in military service.

Kansas City, Mo., August 29.—Reconstruction of the Kansas City club of the American Association with young players is the plan of Manager John Gangel, who is keenly disappointed with the showing of the team this season. It was the first time in years that Gangel has piloted a loser. He has won pennants in at least two leagues, giving Rochester of the International league in a row.

Gangel believes that young players will give the club speed. He has several deals on the fire, some of which may materialize before the close of the present season, and others during the winter months. Several of the veterans on the club probably will be dropped in an effort to develop a speedier club. This is one of the reasons for the release of Jack Lelivelt, a 300 hitter.

"I'll admit that Lelivelt is a valuable batter," Gangel explained, "but he was not fast on the bases; neither did he cover enough ground in the outfield. I am going after fast youngsters with the hope of building a winner for the 1918 season. I presume, of course that the American Association will open its season as usual unless the war situation becomes too critical."

When the season opened, Gangel considered his team a strong contender for the pennant. The fact that it set a record for the association by winning fifteen games in a row show that Gangel had constructed a powerful team but injuries to several of the players sapped its strength.

St. Louis, Mo., August 29.—Officials of the St. Louis American are determined to stamp out gambling in Sportsman's Park. Bobby Quinn, business manager of the club, started the crusade by ejecting a spectator charged with gambling and refunding his admission.

Spectators will not be permitted to stand at the rear of the grand stand as this practice, it is said, is conducive to open betting. The recent investigation of gambling conditions in Boston by President Johnson of the American league is believed to have increased the vigilance in other parks.

St. Paul, August 29.—For the first time in his career, Mike Gibbons, the St. Paul middleweight, has engaged a trainer. Barney Furey, who has conditioned Ad Wolgast, Stanley Ketchel, Billy Papke and other famous ring stars, will train Mike and his brother, Tommy. Furey, a negro, was with Wolgast until the former lightweight champion suffered a nervous collapse.

Walter Cruise of St. Louis butted his way into second place in the National league, denosing Knoff of New York, who is fourth. Cruise is hitting .318, with Roger Hornsby, a teammate, a point behind him. Roush, the Cincinnati slugger, continues to show the way with an average of .350. Hornsby, however, is leading in total base hitting with 194.

Cravath of Philadelphia broke the triple tie for home run hitting by hoisting his total to nine. Doyle and Williams of Chicago continue to fight it out for honors in sacrifice hitting, each having twenty-four. Carey of Pittsburgh added five more stolen bases to his total, bringing it up to thirty-seven. Burns of New York is far in the lead in scoring, having 81 to his credit. Cincinnati with an average of .265, is leading New York by one point in team batting. The averages include games of Wednesday.

Leading batters for half their club games: Poush, Cincinnati, .350; Cruise, St. Louis, .318; Hornsby, St. Louis, .317; Knoff, New York, .314; Groh, Cincinnati, .308; Wilhoit, New York, .304; Zimmerman, New York, .300; Griffith, Cincinnati, .300; Neale, Cincinnati, .299; Burns, New York, .297.

Bill Donovan is carrying six pitchers on the road now instead of 10. He probably could do as well with two as he has been doing with 10 if they were pitchers.

Joe Wood has refused to accept any salary from the Indians. Which, considering everything, is about what he was worth to the club this year.

Detroit is the strongest club in the American league, says a contem. But they pay off to the club which is out there ahead.

COUNTRY NEEDS MANY MARINERS

Census of Navigators Begun by Recruiting Service of the Shipping Board.

NEED DATA FOR EMERGENCY

More Than 40,000 Said to Hold Government Licenses to Officer Ships of All Kinds—Many Have Left the Sea.

Boston, Mass.—The United States shipping board recruiting service, of which Henry Howard is director, has started taking a country-wide census of licensed mariners. In order to deal intelligently with the present emergency, the board is urging all licensed mariners who are engaged in shore occupations to come back to the sea, for the new merchant marine will need great numbers of competent men.

Data covering the numbers of licensed officers, together with the grades of ocean and coastwise licenses which they hold, have been prepared here for the recruiting service by the United States steamboat inspection service.

There are about 40,000 licensed officers. Many are not now engaged in the seafaring profession. These are all men of considerable sea experience, and it is to this class that the call to the sea that the board is now preparing will appeal.

Draft for License Holder.

Some leading authorities believe that all men who hold licenses should be drafted and forced to assist the government in the present emergency. Others believe that unless the men come forward and serve willingly their licenses should be taken away.

A letter has been sent by Henry Howard to every person in the country holding a license as officer of an ocean or coastwise steam or sail vessel and says in part:

"The recruiting service of the United States shipping board is at present engaged in compiling detailed statistics as to the number of persons holding United States licenses as officers of ocean or coastwise steam or sail vessels, their present address and occupation.

"This information is desired in order that this service may have a ready reference list of all officers available for service in the large number of vessels that will be placed in coastwise and overseas service.

"Opportunities for the advancement of licensed officers were never so promising as at the present time; and salaries are on a higher plane than ever before.

"It has been said that to win this war the United States must provide ships in large numbers to offset the activities of the enemy submarines. These ships are required for the maintenance of our military forces on the battlefield and also to supply food and supplies to our allies.

Ships Being Built.

"Ships are now being built as rapidly as the facilities of our shipyards will allow. There are now under construction about 1,500,000 tons for private order for service in the coastwise or overseas trade; and in addition there are 1,900,000 tons building for government order for overseas service. Stupendous as these figures may appear, as compared to previous records of shipbuilding in this country, even this output will be materially increased as additional shipyards are completed. As soon as these ships are completed work will be commenced on others, contracts for which have already been let.

"With the ships assured, the problem is presented of securing a sufficient number of licensed officers to man the vessels as they are made ready for service.

"These are days of self-sacrifice for every liberty-loving American. The world must and shall be made free that future generations may enjoy the blessing of liberty, and you of course realize the important part the officers and seamen of our merchant marine must take to bring success to the cause of democracy.

"The American seaman has never been a slacker, and history records that in every case of danger to our nation he has come valiantly to his country's aid without thought of personal comfort or advantage; and there is every reason to believe that the seamen of the present day will be just as patriotic as their predecessors. Are you willing to do your part to preserve the glorious traditions of our merchant sailor?"

"The United States shipping board, through its recruiting service, is now engaged in educating both deck and engineer officers free of charge, having established schools in cities along the seaboard and Great Lakes."

"In addition, the recruiting service is taking a census of the officers at present holding license in order that it may intelligently deal with the situation at hand. You are therefore requested to fill out the inclosed card and return it as soon as possible. To insure accurate records you should be careful to see that all blanks are properly filled in and contain the correct information.

"Your country desires your service."

Had to Be Accumulated.

Louise had some of her little friends in for luncheon the other day and among other things she had olives. She offered them to one little miss, who said she did not like them, whereupon Louise replied in a superior fashion: "Oh, I didn't like 'em at first, but you must accumulate a taste for them."

Might Be Only One Left.

When her older brother allowed the kitten to fall from his knee Alice was deeply touched and told him to be careful or he would hurt the kitten. But mother told her a cat had nine lives, and so she need not fear. She meditated a moment and then replied: "Yes, but maybe this is the ninth life."

Beyond Forgiveness.

It is hard to forgive the scoundrel who has stolen your horse or poisoned your well, but even he will bask in the sunlight of your Christian charity long before you can forgive the skulking hound who wants the office you hold or intend to run for.—Houston Post.

Wealth and Happiness.

Many who seem to be struggling with adversity are happy, whilst some in the midst of riches are miserable; that is the case when the former bear the pressure with constancy and the latter employ their wealth thoughtlessly.—Tacitus.

EUGENIE WAR AID

Former French Empress Active, Though 92 Years Old.

Consort of the ill-fated Napoleon III Spending All Her Means and Strength Caring for Wounded at English Home.

When German prisoners of war are marched to a barbed-wire enclosure near Frintley, Aldershot, England, they pass down an avenue below a beautiful mansion standing on a wooden hill. It often happens that as the Germans file past the gateway lodge, a sad-eyed, venerable woman is standing or sitting there. It is doubtful if any of the prisoners know that she is the surviving consort of Napoleon III, who delivered his sword to the king of Prussia at Sedan, September 1, 1870.

Empress Eugenie celebrated her ninety-second birthday recently by watching the sight of a new and large detachment of prisoners marching toward their concentration camp. It was a dramatic contrast to the events of many years ago which robbed her of her seat on the French Imperial throne.

Surely there is not another woman in the world who has lived through such experiences as this one, who forms the link between the riotous past of the French and the glorious present of united democracies. It was her beauty and popularity which aided Napoleon III to establish himself as monarch. It was the interest aroused by her marriage with Napoleon III which enabled him to bring about the Crimean war, although that war marked the beginning of his fall.

Eugenie's influence over her husband was well known and it is possible that her intelligence went for toward helping him to realize that Prussianism was the real menace of Europe. When the North German Bund was formed in 1866 he knew that here was his real rival. From the date of the formation of this Bund Prussia has gone steadily forward with plans for world power, and it must be with feelings of joy that Empress Eugenie sees today the greatest countries on earth allied with France against the old enemies of Napoleon III.

Throughout England the name of Empress Eugenie is revered. Wherever charity and kindness were to be found it was almost certain that her name would appear in connection therewith. Throughout the years that have elapsed since she went to England with Napoleon III after the defeat at Sedan, she has worked unceasingly among the poor and the sick. Her wealth has been at the disposal of charitable organizations. Her only son, Prince Louis, who went to England with her, died on the field of battle in Zululand.

Her home on Farnborough Hill has been transformed into a hospital for British officers. Since early in 1915 she has been using all of her means and what strength she has left in caring for these men who come to her from the battlefields of France.

No Excuse.

Order is heaven's first law, but that is no reason why we should want to order everyone around just to please ourselves.—Exchange.

CAN'T BURN OUR COAL IN EASTERN TIER OF COUNTIES

Fireboxes Not Equipped to Burn Lignite, Must Have Bituminous Fuel

WESTERN MINES HAVE ALL ORDERS FILLED

Up to Date on Production and Some Are Laying Off Men—Capacity Increased

While the bituminous and anthracite operators are finding it difficult to meet present demands and face the practical certainty of a big shortage with the arrival of cold weather, the North Dakota lignite mines are right up to the minute with their orders, and some of them have over-produced to an extent which necessitates the temporary laying off of men, reported Dr. V. H. Stickney, president of the North Dakota national defense council on his arrival today from Dickinson.

Increased Capacity. "The Wilton mine," said Dr. Stickney today "has increased production capacity 100 per cent. Mines west of the river have made increases of forty to sixty per cent. There is no emergency nor any promise of a famine so far as lignite is concerned. The difficulty is with consumers in the eastern part of the state whose heating plants are not arranged to burn lignite satisfactorily and who must have bituminous coal. To get bituminous coal to these consumers is the problem with which we are confronted now."

Can't Use Our Coal. Dr. Stickney regards it an impossibility for the great mass of private consumers on the eastern frontier of their state to install this fall new fireboxes which would permit the economical burning of lignite. The principal difference between a lignite fire box and one designed to burn bituminous is that the former is considerably larger. A better draft is also required for lignite, which is a matter of flues as much as furnace. Undoubtedly the experience of this fall and of several seasons past will convince eastern coal-users of the advisability of burning lignite, but the change cannot be made on a few weeks' notice, and the situation as regards these consumers is practically as bad as though they did not have 700 billion tons of good, old reliable lignite almost at their doors.

Prejudice Manufactured. As a matter of fact, prejudice against lignite has been deliberately fomented in the eastern section of the state in the past by interests who could not believe that anything good could or ever would come out of the Slope and who were determined to prove the correctness of their premise by even going to the extent of actually opposing the development of this great natural resource. Anthracite coal met with the same opposition when a citizen of Philadelphia proposed that the citizens attempt to burn a product whose usefulness therefore had consisted principally of its utility for cobblestones.

RAID MADE ON HOUSE CLAIMED TO BE RESORT

The Charlie Williams domicile on Ninth street was raided Saturday afternoon by Chief Martinson and the sheriff's office, and Williams, Mrs. John Robbleau, Mrs. Frankie Kelley and Kitty Weingard, all more or less frequent attendants at police court, were taken. Their arraignment is in progress this afternoon, and neighbors from blocks around the Williams place are testifying.

Chief Martinson and Deputy Sheriff Welch picked up a negroess on the streets this morning. Bismarck is being given a gradual but thorough cleaning.

ON TO PETROGRAD! MAP SHOWS TEUTON PATH

In grasping Riga Hindenburg's legions are really knocking at the gate of Petrograd. First and foremost Germany thus seals up one of three Russian ports that count, and increases her power in the Baltic. But the kaiser by this capture also seizes the pivotal point from which his armies can advance by land or water upon the Russian capital, only 350 miles away.

JITNEY JAUNT NETS ENTERPRISING GENT $450 PROFIT A TRIP

Said That Carload of 180 Quarts of Real Good Whiskey Comes in Weekly

The old Black Hills trail never carried a more valuable cargo in the days of old, the days of gold, the days of '79, etc., with apologies to the "Forty-Niners," than does the Red trail in this good year of 1917. If reports are to be believed, single cargoes brought by jitney over the Red trail from Wilbaux, Mont., to Bismarck represent a value of $900 on arrival here, and at least one such cargo, says reliable information, is coming into Bismarck every week in one handsome, seven-passenger, six-cylinder car.

The stuff is perfectly good whiskey, costing $1 to $1.50 per quart in Wilbaux. Here the jobbing price is $4 per quart, but by the time it gets to the consumer it costs $5 or more, and they're glad to pay it. One little party recently consumed $15 worth of this commodity and declared it first rate red liquor, it is said. A trip to Wilbaux and return by jitney consumes three days. The net profit on an average load of 180 quarts is $450. Traveling by night, it's comparatively safe. It's being done, at least, according to good information.

DROUTH INSURANCE COMPANY WOULD GO BACK ON CONTRACT

Concern Asking Farmers Who Have Sustained Losses to Accept Premium

STATE DEPARTMENT HEARS OF ACTIVITY OF AGENTS

Reports come from the Berthold reservation country, which was particularly hard hit by the season's dry weather, that the Montana Drouth Insurance Co. has special agents busy there in an effort to winch on the company's policies. "They claim not to be able to pay the insurance and want to pay back the premiums," says a newspaper report of the matter, which has reached the insurance department.

"Some have accepted their return premium, and others have refused. If the company is insolvent, it should be dissolved legally and not allowed to sneak out by returning the premiums. It is hardly probable that they are offering to return premiums to those who have suffered no loss. At any rate, policyholders cannot tell, unless it is done in legal form. The company should be made to perform according to contract."

Many Wrote Business. This is one of a number of insurance companies which wrote a large amount of business in North Dakota early in the season guaranteeing the investment in crop, usually up to $7 per acre. Insurance Commissioner Olness called attention to these companies at the time, and impressed upon the farmer the fact that he was not being insured a crop, but merely enough insurance to make up, with such crop as he might harvest, the amount invested in seedling and cultivating, up to $7. A great many farmers undoubtedly went into these companies believing they were being insured the value of a normal crop of 12 1/2 bushels of wheat to the acre and of other grains in ratio, even after the insurance commissioner had insisted upon a more explicit wording of the clause stating the performance to which the companies bound themselves. These farmers are doomed to disappointment, but it will be by no means as bitter as that which must be suffered by those in the Berthold company, who see going glimmering the possibility of getting anything beyond the mere amount they have invested in their policies.

Hail Losses Light. Fortunately for these companies and for concerns writing a straight hail insurance business, the damage from hail has been far below the average for the last 10 years. The few instances where hail damage has been reported have been unusually severe, and the loss over good sized areas has been complete, but the state as a whole has enjoyed almost complete freedom from hail insufficient amount to destroy crops, and hail insurance companies will to a large extent recoup the tremendous loss which they suffered in 1916.

APPLIES FOR ADMISSION

South Dakota Insurance Company Wants to Operate Here
The Northwest Life Insurance Co. of Aberdeen, S. D., has applied for permission to do business in North Dakota, and a joint examination of the company now is in progress at Aberdeen, where A. R. Aslakson, deputy insurance commissioner, is representing North Dakota.
